Debate Challenge Ridiculous: Barry

NEWSROOM NOTES — Ringworm may be just itching to get at you this summer. Despite its name, ringworm — a common skin infection — is not caused by a worm . . . and its lesions are not always ringed. It is caused by a fungus that comes from the soil and is especially active under hot, moist and dark conditions.

Like so many other infections, ringworm is highly contagious. You can get it from using another person's comb or brush, wearing someone else's hat or merely by leaning your head against the back of a contaminated seat. You may even be infected by ringworm from a cat or dog.

How do you recognize the disease? Ringworm of the scalp is characterized by patches of baldness which appear round, gray and scaly with a covering of tiny hair.

When ringworm appears on the body, it shows up in rings about the size of a small coin, bordered with tiny, itchy blisters. While this type of ringworm can infect any part of the body, it usually appears on the face or neck.

When transmitted by the family pet, ringworm of the body—like ringworm of the scalp—occurs most frequently among children. Should a family pet transmit ringworm to your child, be sure that the animal, as well as the youngster, is treated for the disease.

Ringworm of the feet — popularly known as "athlete's foot"—is as common among adults as children. Symptoms of athlete's foot include itching between the toes, scaling, blisters which become large if the disease remains untreated and, in severe cases, swelling, redness and rawness.

Since poor foot hygiene can make anyone a potential victim of athlete's foot, some basic rules of preventive care should be followed.

Keep your feet dry and free from soggy, dead skin. Bathe your feet regularly with special attention to soaping, rinsing and then drying carefully between the toes. Dust with thinks he needs to lock up the presidential nomination, was described as "boiling mad" as Scranton's latest effort to stop the fast-moving Goldwater bandwagon.

The Pennsylvania governor fired off a letter to Goldwater Sunday, challenging him to a debate at the convention and asserting the big issue is this:

"Will the convention chose the candidate overwhelmingly favored by the Republican voters, or will it choose you?"

Questioning that Goldwater has as many delegates as he claims, Scranton charged that "with open contempt for the dignity, integrity and common sense of the convention, your managers say in effect the delegates are little more than a flock of chickens whose necks will be wrung at will."

Goldwater dismissed Scranton's debate challenge as "ridiculous" and whipped the letter back. But his aides said he was steaming and he failed to show up at a $500-a-plate fund-raising gala Sunday night that Scranton attended. Hoping the letter would boomerang, the senator's aides ran off thousands of copies to be distributed to delegates.

While today's convention fare is speeches and more speeches, a floor fight loomed Tuesday over the platform carrying the senator's brand which the convention will be asked to adopt.

Goldwater swept into the convention's opening claiming 739 delegates with 655 needed for nomination. An Associated Press survey credited him with 740 first-ballot votes, including 303 delegates who favor him but are not officially bound. The sur-

Old Post Office Up For Sale

The federal government's General Services Administration (GSA) today announced from the regional center in Chicago that bids for the proposed sale of the old Dixon Post Office are being accepted.

Dominic A. Tesaro, regional administrator, Monday announced that sealed bids for the property and building at Second Street and Galena Avenue, will be accepted in the Chicago office until 3 p.m. on Aug. 13.

The move on the part of the GSA apparently is a blow to the Lee County Board of Supervisors who have been negotiating with the government for the building and property.

Carl Spangler, chairman of the building, told The Telegraph in a telephone interview this morning that although the GSA has announced the sale of the old structure, an "open line" still exists between GSA and the county supervisors.

"It's hoped that if we can reach an agreement with the government on the sale of the place to us before the August deadline, the GSA will withdraw their notice for sale to the public," Spangler said.

"If we can't see eye to eye with them on the 'no strings' sale to the county, then I guess they will go through with the sale to those bidding for it," Spangler continued.

Lee County had an opportunity to acquire the deed to the property last December if the building was used for county health offices and offices for the county superintendent of schools.

The supervisors decided that the imposing structure would house the

Airport Dedication Honors Memory Of Famous and Well-Loved Man

By ROBERT NELLIS
Telegraph City Editor

"That Charles Walgreen has earned a spiritual reward, we are certain. The dedication of the Dixon airport to his memory today is a well deserved extra-dividend for this kind, helpful, generous man whom I loved as a brother.

"May God continue to bless this family—and protect all who land and take off from the beautiful, modern Charles R. Walgreen Airport. . . .

"What greater tribute could be paid to this great man from Dixon."

These words were uttered with considerable emotion by Merrill C. Meigs at the dedication of Charles R. Walgreen Field here Sunday afternoon before a crowd estimated at 1,500, including the family of Mr. Walgreen.

Dedication committee members said the uncertain weather kept down the number of pilots who had planned to fly in for the event.

Meigs, who described himself as a Chicagoan "via a dirt road from an Iowa farm," said he knew Charles R. Walgreen as a Chicagoan, but that he was always a Dixonite.

The octogenarian, who also has had the honor of having an airfield named for him, Meigs Field in Chicago, and is a retired vice president of the Hearst Corporation, gave an informative picture of Mr. Walgreen told with great feeling and spiced with humor.

"Fate plays a big role in the lives of great men," Meigs philosophized and then told two instances in Mr. Walgreen's life which apparently guided him toward the drug store business.

At 16, Walgreen was working in a Dixon shoe factory where he suffered an injury from an accident which caused his doctor to advise that he seek another kind of work. The doctor's advice included helping him land a job in the drug store owned by Dave Horton, then located in the 100 block of First Street.

The second instance of "fate" entering his life, Meigs related, was his emergence from the Spanish-American War weakened by yellow fever and malaria.

Without these two circumstances, Meigs asserted there might not be Walgreen drug stores all over this land.

The longtime friend of Mr. Walgreen hastened to add that circumstances do not make great men but do tend to determine what we remembered them best for.

The speaker who is himself considered one of the great pioneers of aviation recalled that he and several

FBI, Georgia Agents Probe Shotgun Death

COLBERT, Ga. (AP)—FBI and Georgia state agents today pushed an intensive investigation into the mysterious shotgun slaying of a Washington Negro educator.

J. J. Casper, assistant director of the FBI, would say only that the investigation is continuing. "I'm in no position to make any comment," he said.

State investigators fanned out Sunday along the route taken through northeast Georgia by Lemuel Penn, 49, director of Washington's vocational high schools, when he was shot at the wheel of his car early Saturday by a night-riding gunman.

Residents along the rural route said agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation moved from house to house in their questioning Sunday. Public Safety Director Lowell Conner said there were no arrests and that he had nothing to report.

Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was killed by a shotgun blast fired from a car which passed his automobile from the rear about 10 miles northeast of Colbert. Two other Negro officers riding with Penn escaped injury. The three men had completed a refresher course at Ft. Benning.

The only investigator talking was Madison County Sheriff Dewey Seagraves, who said he was getting nowhere.

"They are not either," Seagraves said, referring to the FBI.

Find Lower Torso in River Sunday

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—An autopsy at the University Medical Center on the lower half of a body may yield a clue today in the case of three missing civil rights workers.

A fisherman found the decomposed lower torso, its feet bound with rope, Sunday in Old River where it cuts away from the Mississippi about 15 miles south of Tallulah, La. Tallulah is 125 miles southwest of Philadelphia, Miss., where three civil rights workers disappeared June 21 shortly after their release from jail on a speeding violation.

The condition of the body made it impossible to tell the sex or race.

Three Die in Two-Car Pileup Sunday Night

ROCHELLE — A two-car accident at 11:20 p.m. Sunday on Rt. 64, 2 miles east of Rt. 51, killed three suburban Chicago residents, injured a fourth person, and completely demolished the two cars, both convertibles.

Dead are Hubert W. Meier, 47, and his wife, Gladys, Arlington Heights, and Charles L. Batio, 18, Franklin Park.

Anthony T. Gasper, 17, Franklin Park, driver of the car in which Batio was riding, is listed in "satisfactory" condition today in Rochelle Hospital with severe lacerations on his face and legs and possible internal injuries.

According to State Police, Meier, driving his car eastbound on Rt. 64, was attempting to pass a third vehicle, which was not involved in the accident, when he saw the westbound Gasper car approaching. Meier tried to re-enter his own driving lane but his car went out of control and struck the Gasper car head on.

Dr. Ivan Elliott, Ogle County Deputy Coroner, has scheduled an inquest to be held Friday evening.

This accident claimed more lives than any other single traffic accident throughout the state during the entire weekend.

Cheerful news for any man planning to go into a hospital: more than half of all U.S. registered nurses are under 40.

Dismas House Saved Missouri $1.5 Million

ST. LOUIS (P) — Dismas House, founded by the late "hoodlum priest," the Rev. Charles Dismas Clark, has saved Missouri taxpayers about $1.5 million in the past five years, a state official said Sunday.

Charles Elder, chairman of the board of probation and parole, made the tax saving estimate. Elder said taxpayers saved money because prisoners paroled to Dismas House didn't have to be supported by the state. He said it costs about $2,000 to keep a prisoner one year. Dismas House is a non-sectarian rehabilitation center for ex-convicts.

Elder spoke to 80 political, business and labor leaders at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel.

The men schedule a fund raising dinner for Dismas House Sept. 20 in honor of Father Clark.

The president of the Dismas Foundation, attorney Morris Shenker, said $1 million should be added to Elder's tax saving estimate. Shenker said 40 per cent of the men cared for by Dismas House are not from Missouri.

Houseware Manufacturers Stage Show in Chicago

CHICAGO (P) — Two hundred thousand housewares products, including an electrically heated outdoor bird bath, went on display today as the 41st National Housewares Manufacturing Association opened its eighth consecutive show in McCormick Place on the lake front.

All Chicago hotel space has been reported sold out for the show period which has attracted 38,000 retail and wholesale buyers and a record 1,075 exhibitors. The show continues through Friday.

Exhibits range from an electric dog-dryer that provides hot or cool drying for the family pet to a pretzel press and a do-it-yourself outfit for making candles.

Dolph Zapfel, executive director of the association, said buyers at the summer show will replenish inventories of stores with items used by American households in the winter season. Summer merchandise is displayed at the January show.

Zapfel said that since the N.H.M.A. abandoned Atlantic City, N.J., for their summer show and moved in 1961 to the lake front exposition center, annual business of the industry has increased 42 per cent.

"Industry reports indicate an excellent first-half year," Zapfel said. "Retail sales for the entire industry were reported generally from seven to 10 per cent over the first half of 1963. Annual 1963 sales were close to $8 billion. We easily will top $8 billion this year."

The show is closed to the public, so housewives will have to wait until the products appear on retail shelves. Exhibitors planned to display more than 1,000 new products.

One of the new products is an electric knife with a saw-toothed edge that heats to 500 degrees Fahrenheit for slicing frozen foods. The heat is confined to the cutting edge.

Speakers at the association's annual dinner Tuesday will be Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Lyndon Johnson's council of economic advisers, and David L. Yunch, president of Macy's department store in New York City.

The giant General Sherman in Sequoia National Forest is 3,500 years old.

Three Lives Were Snuffed Out

Shown above is one of the two cars in which three Chicago area residents lost their lives late Sunday night after a grinding smashup on Rt. 64, about two miles east of Rt. 51, north of Rochelle. An occupant in one of the cars suffered severe injuries in the wreck. One of the cars in which two persons died went out of control and plowed into the second car.

Airport . . .

Chicagoans, including Mr. Walgreen, operated the Gray Goose Air Lines in the late 1920s. "As I recall," he continued, "it was a $95 flight charter by the Dixon Chamber of Commerce which barely put us in the black for one period."

The airline, according to Meigs, "flew a pretty straight course but flew the coop — after a hangar fire."

The Walgreens brought many important Americans to Dixon in the amphibious Sikorsky, "Wet and Dry," which was their private plane. Among these was Admiral Richard E. Byrd. Mr. Walgreen became acquainted with the famous Arctic explorer through a donation of powdered milk for one of Byrd's expeditions by the drug magnate.

Byrd honored his drugist friend by naming a 1,000-mile coastline and a mountain in Antarctica for him.

Describing one aspect of the man being honored Sunday, Meigs remembered that Mr. Walgreen drew big headlines when his withdrawal his niece from the University of Chicago because he charged she was being taught communist doctrines.

The university replied, Meigs said, "that it presented the truth about all institutions and believed the students were mature enough to sort the good from the bad."

After the situation was corrected to Mr. Walgreen's satisfaction, the niece was reinstated and the druggist gave the university $550,000 for research and instruction in American institutions. "He was not interested in promoting any special view — just a fair and impartial study of our institutions," continued the one-time publisher of the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Turning to Mrs. Walgreen, the speaker said he could do no better than quote from the book, "Never a Dull Day." In the book, Mrs. Walgreen tells about the first lunch counter in a Walgreen drug store in which she did the cooking for more than five years. She says, "It never occurred to me not to like what I was doing, but then, knowing how pleased Charles was, I think I would have liked it—even if I hadn't liked it."

"She," continued Meigs, "at 86, is the answer to what to do to keep from growing old. She became a gardener at 50, a pilot at 55, and a photographer at 60."

The speaker praised Charles R. Walgreen Jr., for the way he has carried out his father's business concepts since the elder Walgreen's death in 1939.

The dedication activities started with a pre-dedication luncheon reception for the Walgreen family in the Nachusa House which was attended by more than 200 friends of the family and local citizens.

In preparation for the ceremonies, the Dixon JayCees constructed and erected the flag pole and planter base at the airport where the plaque commemorating Mr. Walgreen was placed.

In a moving ceremony at the flag pole, Mrs. Walgreen and Charles Jr., unveiled the plaque which carries a likeness of Mr. Walgreen.

The Dixon Post of the VFW presented Mrs. Walgreen with the American Flag which was hoisted above the memorial plaque. Members and officers of the Civil Air Patrol directed visitor parking. State Police were on hand to direct traffic along Alt. 30, and Dixon police assisted in guiding and directing people on the airport grounds. Units of the Dixon Fire Department stood by during the afternoon ceremonies, and Jack Van Meter, chief deputy sheriff was on hand should the sheriff's office have been called upon to render any service.

vey counts Scranton's delegates at 170, none bound.

In his letter, Scranton declared he is certain Goldwater does not have enough delegates for nomination on the first roll call, and said:

"I have doublechecked the arithmetic of my staff, and I am convinced that a true count at this minute puts your first-ballot strength at only some 620 votes."

Scranton said "Goldwaterism has come to stand for a whole crazy-quilt of absurd and dangerous positions that would be soundly repudiated by the American people in November."

Among these, he said, was "refusal to stand for law and order in maintaining racial peace" and being afraid to forthrightly condemn right wing extremists."

Taunting Goldwater, he said the Arizona Senator "should not fear a convention you claim to control, and I would hope we have not reached the point where you fear to face the nation."

Minor Wreck Reported Here This Morning

A minor car-ambulance wreck at the intersection of No. Peoria Avenue and W. Everett Street Monday morning tied up traffic at the corner for about 15 minutes.

According to police reports, a car driven by Hubert O. Hope, 834 N. Dixon Ave., and an ambulance owned by the Melvin Funeral Home, Sterling, collided at the intersection after Hope apparently was making a turn.

Hope told police he didn't see the ambulance, which was on a call to KSB Hospital, because a truck interfered with his vision.

After the impact, the ambulance left the scene to complete the delivery of a patient to the hospital.

Damage appeared to be moderate to both machines and Hope was issued a ticket for failing to yield the right-of-way.

county jail nicely and they turned down the offer from the government.

If the county were to take over the property, the supervisors demanded a "no strings" agreement.

At their regular June meeting, the board members authorized Spangler to investigate the possibilities of purchasing the building from the GSA.

Spangler reported at the July meeting, held last week, that negotiations with the government were going slowly. No actual progress had been made by the building committee, but letters and phone calls had been made to interested parties.

Spangler told board members at the July meeting that his committee was still working on the situation.

Communications apparently broke down last week and the GSA announced the sale of the building today.

If the property is sold to the highest bidder, there is speculation that the building will be razed to make way for more downtown parking facilities.

Miss Ackerson and Jerry Garkey Repeat Vows in Lighthouse Church

ASHTON — In a candle-light wedding performed June 28 by the Rev. Boyd Carter in Lighthouse Methodist Church, rural Oregon, Miss Sandra Marlene Ackerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ackerson, Ashton, became the bride of Jerry LeRoy Garkey, son of the LeRoy Garkeys, Oregon.

Lighted tapers in twin candelabras and bouquets of yellow gladioli and white pompons trimmed the church altar for the double-ring ceremony and the sanctuary pews were marked with bows of white satin. "I'll Walk Beside You" and "The Lord's Prayer" were nuptial selections sung by Mrs. Dale Allen to organ accompaniment provided by Mrs. Milford Bunker.

Wedding Gown

White chantilly lace and silk taffeta were combined in fashioning the floor length gown chosen by the bride for her wedding which was styled with a lace bodice featuring tapered sleeves and a square, scalloped neckline embroidered with iridescent sequins. Her bouffant taffeta skirt caught with fabric bows, was accented by lace tiers forming the skirt's hemline and extending into a brush train. Seed pearls and sequins trimmed the queen's crown of lace which held her elbow length illusion veil, and with her colonial arrangement of white carnations and ivy centered with a corsage of yellow roses, she carried a linen and Swiss lace handkerchief, a gift from Mrs. Anton Fichtel.

Mr. Ackerson gave his daughter in marriage, and Mrs. Lynn Cater, Rochelle, was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Vicki Ackerson and Miss Pam Ackerson, also sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Lyle Allen, all of Ashton, were attendants. They carried baskets filled with yellow and white daisies, and were attired in identically designed sleeveless frocks of maize peau de soie styled with bateau necklines and street length bell skirts. Their headresses were crowns of yellow and white daisies.

The bridegroom's niece, Miss Laurie Hundertmark, Mount Louis, served as ceremonial flower girl and wore a full-skirted dress of yellow organza and a crown of daisies similar to those worn by the attendants. Rose petals filled the miniature white basket she carried.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ackerson selected a two-piece costume of ice blue lace over satin, and a sheath dress of pink embroidered chiffon was worn by Mrs. Garkey. Both chose hats to match their dresses, white accessories and shoulder corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Ringbearer for the service was Curtis Shaw, LaMoille, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Garkey's best man was Glenn Langhoff, Oregon. Groomsmen were Michael Hayden, Oregon; Donald Hundertmark, Mount Morris; and Phillip Robinson, Rockford, and ushering was done by Lynn Cater, Rochelle; Terry Greenfield, Ashton; Elmer Shaw Jr., Amboy, and Donald Healy, Bloomington.

Yellow streamers and bows decorated the parlors of the church for a reception held immediately following the ceremony when guests from Ashton, Dixon, Oregon, Sterling, Rochelle, Chicago, Amboy, Compton, Lee Center, Polo, Mount Morris, Rockford, Byron, Bloomington, Forreston, Leaf River, LaMoille, Stillman Valley and from Milwaukee, Wis., were registered by Miss Dixie Richardson, Ashton.

Tiered Cake

A four-tiered yellow and white cake centering the refreshment table arranged for the reception, was encircled at the base by a wreath of yellow and white daisies and was topped by figures of a bridal couple. Lighted tapers were additional table appointments, and the bride's table held a center arrangement of yellow and white roses. Mrs. Colletta Miller, Compton, and Miss Donna Heckman, Rockford, aunt and cousin of the bride, cut the cake, and at the coffee service and punch bowl were Mrs. Donald Hundertmark, Mount Morris, and Miss Pam Prentice, Sterling. Wedding gifts were displayed by Miss Wilma Hall, Mrs. Steven Chapman, Miss Betty Smith and Miss Janet Morris, Ashton.

The rose corsage from her bouquet and black accessories complemented the white two-piece knit suit worn by the bride for the couple's wedding trip to the Black Hills and Badlands in South Dakota. She attended Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, following her graduation from Ashton High School, and is presently enrolled in the Sterling School of Beauty Culture.

Mr. Garkey graduated from Oregon Community High School and Rockford Barber College, and is associated with Bing's Barber Shop in Oregon.

Miss Fairfax, Alan Danse Say June Vows

Miss Lynn Fairfax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond N. Fairfax, Sterling, former Dixon residents, and Alan Montgomery Danse, exchanged marriage vows in a June ceremony held in Sterling's Fourth Street Methodist Church. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Danse, Lisbon Falls, Me.

The bride, attired in a floor length gown of lace and organza, was attended by Miss Marcia Yeager, Minneapolis, Minn., as maid of honor, and Miss Lynda Keleman, Sterling, bridesmaid. Miss Candy Fairfax was her sister's junior bridesmaid.

Alton M. Heath Jr., Syracuse, N.Y., acted as best man for Mr. Danse; groomsmen were Bruce Yeager, Naperville, and Brian Fairfax, Sterling, and Scott Eversole, Elizabeth, served as ringbearer.

Since their return from a wedding trip to New Hampshire, the newlyweds have been residing in Allston, Mass. The bride is employed as a secretary at Boston University, Boston, Mass., and Mr. Danse is enrolled as a senior in Bentley College, Boston.

Rainy day activities included impromptu plays and skits by the campers and items made in arts and crafts classes were leaf dolls, leaf pictures, macaroni necklaces, name stencils, camp book covers, corn plaques and Indian headbands.

Members of units six and seven participated in an overnight campout Thursday and cooked an evening meal at their campsite. A conservation study for the entire week was carried out by unit seven members, who listed information gained through their observance of the camp's white pine, blue spruce, Scotch pine, jack pine and balsam trees.

Nature study was conducted on Thursday by Mrs. Orno Kersten, Ashton, and Friday's closing pro-

Correct Costumes Necessity For Today's Leisure Activities

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Leisure used to mean a nice rest in the hammock on a hot afternoon—maybe you would shell the peas for dinner. It didn't matter what you wore.

Today's leisure is serious business — sailing, swimming, tennis, golf. Everyone's an enthusiast about some sport, and a big chunk of the family income goes for sports clothes and equipment.

Let's take the fashion-conscious girl at the beach first. If she is to be properly attired, her beach bag must have strong seams.

you don't know the galley from bilgewater.

Golf Fashions

The woman golfer, it seems, must be as fashion conscious about her equipment on the links as she is about her attire in the ballroom. Even if you paid a lot for your golf.

Variety

Her swimsuit can be anything from a bikini to the new cover-up blouson top with boy shorts. If she's staying for a weekend, she'll need two suits. No self-respecting beach beauty wears the same swimsuit two days in a row.

Boating? Let the skipper cling to his ducks and oilskins. You can be a right smart-looking mate in a red, white and blue striped or checked nylon parka and stretch surfers. You'll look expert even if

Auto's Gift to Us: More Land To Use

Almost anywhere one travels in America today, whether in city or country, the marks of the bulldozer can be seen on the land as more and more stretches of the vast Interstate Highway network come into being, as more and more residential subdivisions spring up on what was yesterday a farm, as more and more decayed city cores are torn down and rebuilt.

To all of us this means progress. The highway system is an urgent necessity if the nation is not to be strangled by the very motor vehicles that have given us a mobility never before known in history. The need for new housing and urban redevelopment is equally obvious.

At the same time, there are many who lament the transformation of millions of acres of forest and field into great ribbons of concrete and asphalt.

To some, there seems an actual danger that the entire country will eventually be paved solid with superhighways and city streets.

Now comes a voice crying out of what little wilderness remains in the land to say that this isn't so at all.

According to a study published by the Tax Institute of America, urban areas take up only one per cent of our total land area. Even if cities continue to grow at their present rate—absorbing about 400,000 new acres a year—they will still only occupy less than 2 per cent of the land by the year 2010.

As for the automobile, says the study, it and its highways actually use far less space than the horse and mule once did.

Before 1920, for instance, nearly 5 per cent of the total land in the 48 continental states was used merely to produce the feed for this living form of transportation. This amounted to 27 per cent of the total harvested land.

The switch from animals to automobiles has meant an actual gain in land, for by 1957 only 2.4 per cent of the harvested land was devoted to raising feed for horses and mules.

Even though some of this "released" land is being surfaced over, "the motor car is still utilizing far less acreage than was needed for its four-legged predecessor," says the report.

Moreover, the Tax Institute claims, there is a lot of vacant land in urban areas and it is not as high-priced as is generally believed. It ranges from 12 per cent in New York and Chicago to as much as 36 per cent in some smaller cities.

Also in the cities, the institute's analysis finds, the automobile is shrinking the space requirements of streets once trod by horses. Modern subdivisions and rebuilt areas, specifically designed for automobile travel, devote no more than 20 per cent of the total land to traffic needs, including both streets and arterial freeways.

It is the automobile that has made possible the fantastic spreading of our cities by providing both a great part of the economic basis for a large population and the means for it to get from place to place.

It is encouraging to be told that the automobile is also providing the means for the intelligent use and conservation of the land we hold in trust for future generations.

The Doctor Says

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Children are fascinated by animals. But whether in a zoo, a national park or in the woods it must be remembered that animals are wild and may suddenly bite. I emphasize this because often bears and other animals appear to be very friendly.

Friendliness in bears, however, may turn to anger if you refuse them food, if you give them food but they want more and think you are holding out on them, or if you get too friendly with their cubs.

When traveling in a national park, therefore, the only safe procedure is to keep car windows closed, stay a safe distance from all wild animals, and don't attempt to feed them or play games with their young.

Often a fox, squirrel or other wild animal that appears to be friendly is just too sick to follow his better judgment and run. The natural instinct of all wild animals is to get out of your way unless taken suddenly by surprise.

Thus the "friendly" rabbit may have tularemia and the "friendly" fox may have rabies. Indeed, if you or your child is bitten by a wild creature and the animal escapes, you must assume that it had rabies and take prophylactic vaccine. If you kill the animal, you can have its brain examined for signs of rabies. If there are none, you will have one less worry.

Even if the animal is not rabid the bite may result in a nasty infection unless prompt steps are taken to clean the wound. The most important first step is thorough cleansing with soap and water.

If a soap containing hexachlorophene is available, use it.

Don't put iodine on the wound. After cleansing, cover it with the cleanest bandage available. Call your doctor. Then, when all the crying and excitement has subsided, make sure your child has learned his lesson and will not provoke an animal bite in the future.

Q—My 3-year-old daughter has never had her hair cut but it is short and very silky. My friends say that, if I have her head shaved, her hair will grow faster but I don't want to do it because it took three years for her to get what little she's got now. What do you think?

A—Your daughter's scanty slow-growing hair may be a normal variation or it may be due to an excess of vitamin A in her diet or a hormonal imbalance. In any case, although it has long been believed that cutting or shaving the hair will increase the rate of growth, this myth has been completely exploded.

News item with a London dateline: "British doctors and psychiatrists are combating an ailment reported spreading among housewives — women who find themselves mentally unable to leave their homes without suffering attacks of the weeps and the shakes."

Well, that's one ailment we don't have to worry about crossing the Atlantic and attacking the women of America.

If there's one thing that housewives in this country do at every opportunity it's GET OUT OF THE HOUSE.

The American woman's dread of being house-bound has resulted in the second car's becoming a modern day necessity; in the cult of togetherness that takes mama along wherever papa goes; in the spread of women's clubs and organizations that keep housewives on the go.

The American woman is so bent on avoiding cabin fever that she much prefers to meet with a group of women to hear a book review than to stay at home and read a book. She would rather go to a meeting of her garden club than weed her flower bed. She can't resist helping to form a ladies' auxiliary to any organization her husband belongs to, or a mother's club to any organization that interests one of her children.

It's not having to leave her house that gives the American housewife an attack of the weeps and the shakes. It's being forced by cruel circumstances — to remain house-bound for a week or two that gets her down.

There are probably husbands in this country who wouldn't mind if their wives did get a mild case of stay-at-homeitis. But they shouldn't get their hopes up. It can't happen here.

IMPRACTICAL

Theoretically, the U.S. Constitution could be amended so that heavily-populated states could have three senators instead of two, but this is a practical impossibility since the consent of every state would be required.

San Francisco Giants Take Over National League Lead

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves are moving — but in a northerly direction.

Remored to be headed to Atlanta and subjected to some caustic comments about their talents, the Braves ignored the former and answered the latter Sunday by continuing their sudden climb up the National League standings into fifth place.

The Braves, bogged down in ninth place two weeks ago, made it 11 victories in their last 15 games by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia 4-3 and 6-2, knocking the Phillies into second place behind San Francisco.

The Braves' latest outburst came just two days after the Milwaukee County board chairman, Eugene Grobbschmidt, fired a verbal broadside at the players.

Hank Aaron has been laying the groundwork for the Braves' streak with some amazing stickwork.

The slugging outfielder collected four hits against the Phillies — including No. 2,000 of his career — and extended his hitting string to 16 games. During that stretch, Aaron has driven in 17 runs while hitting at a .394 clip and lifting his average to .312 — sixth best in the league.

The Phillies, meanwhile, lost their fourth straight and again changed places with San Francisco in the tight pennant struggle.

The Giants moved one game out front despite losing to Houston 5-4 in a weird game in which San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was ejected before throwing a pitch and Gaylord Perry took over, then proceeded to change his shoes while sitting on the pitchers' mound.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader for the first time in more than a year by beating Cincinnati 1-0 and 5-1 while the Chicago Cubs downed Los Angeles 6-3 before the Dodgers won the nightcap 6-2 with a six-run ninth inning.

The St. Louis at Pittsburgh doubleheader was rained out.

The Braves jumped on Chris Short in the opener for all their runs in the fourth inning.

Aaron doubled and scored the Braves' first run in the nightcap and drove in the second with a single, his 2,000th hit.

At Houston, O'Dell was called in for a relief role in the seventh inning, but was tossed out before he even threw one pitch because of a disagreement with Umpire Lee Weyer. Perry then got a hurry-up call, trudged in and sat down to change his shoes.

Perry ultimately was touched for a run-producing single by Nellie Fox that tied the score 4-4 and lost it in the ninth when Eddie Kasko, Dave Roberts and Fox stroked singles for the winning run.

Galen Cisco of the Mets won a battle of six-hitters with the Red's Joey Jay in the opener when New York scored the game's only run in the ninth inning on consecutive doubles by George Altman and Joe Christopher.

The Mets wrapped up their first doubleheader sweep since June 23, 1963, as Ron Hunt collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs in the nightcap. Frank Lary got the victory, his first as a National Leaguer.

The Cubs won the opener with a four-run ninth capped by Billy Williams' 21st homer, off Ron Perranoski.

Ernie Broglio, looking for his first victory as a Cub, had a four-hit shutout going into the nightcap ninth when the Dodgers struck. Tommy Davis' bases loaded single tied the game and Ron Fairly scored the lead run on Frank Howard's infield out.

By The Associated Press

Mike Hersherberger took his place and was 3-for-4 including a double.

The Angels' Bob Rodgers had his 18-game hitting streak stopped in the opener but singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the nightcap. Shortstop Voilo Versalles helped set up the run with a two-base throwing error on Willie Smith's grounder.

Fred Newman stopped the Twins on four hits in the first game. Jim Piersall doubled across the winning run in the ninth, handing Dick Stigman a tough loss. Stigman retired the first 15 men he faced and allowed only three hits.

The Senators' defeat in the opener was their eighth straight, equaling the longest losing streak in the majors this season. The Red Sox won it in the seventh on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly and Felix Mantilla's two-run homer.

Jim King's three-run homer in the second helped launch Washington to the second-game victory. The Senators added three in the sixth on Ed Bressoud's two-run error and a single by winner Al Koch.

Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees while Leon Wagner connected for the Indians in their shortened game.

Unseeded Dixon Entries Do Well

By JOHN UNDERWOOD

All five Dixon entries at the Jay-Cees Tennis Tournament were defeated Saturday but not before giving their opponents a scare.

In the 18 and under girls the doubles team of Diane Harvey and Sharon Huggins reached the semifinals. After winning their first two rounds easily, the girls had to play the second seed.

Their opponents, Jean Mead and Sharon Shostrom, are both members of the Whitman Cup team. The Whitman Cup is the same as the Junior Davis Cup for boys. With all odds against them, Diane and Sharon played brilliantly, taking their opponents into a three set match. When the match was over the Dixon girls had been defeated 6-4, 6-6, 6-4.

In 18 and under singles Diane Harvey lost in the third round to Jean Mead 6-3, 6-1. In 16 and under girls singles Sharon Huggins lost to the 1st seed, Martha Downing, 6-1, 6-3. In 18 and 16 and under boys action both entries, John Underwood and George Covert, lost their doubles matches to top seeds.

Baseball Clinic Is Slated

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, a former major league pitcher will conduct a baseball clinic here July 21 and 22.

The retired professional, now on the staff of the Illinois Youth Commission, will hold the clinic at Shurtliff Field, according to Paul Green, president of the Ward Miller League.

All members of the Future, Little, Pony, and Ward Miller leagues are invited to participate in the two-day event, according to Green.

Leonard ran up a total of 193 victories against 187 defeats in his major league career, which ended at the conclusion of the 1953 season.

Leonard also played in five All-Star contest, four times for the American League and once in the National League.

Further details on Leonard's appearance here will be published at a later date.

Older Horses Take Spotlight

By The Associated Press

The older horses move back into the racing spotlight Saturday after a weekend which saw four 3-year-olds enhance their chances of receiving title consideration when the laurels are handed out at the end of the year.

Richest race on Saturday's calendar is the $140,000 plus Hollywood Gold Cup over 1¼ miles at Hollywood Park. But of chief interest is the 1¼ miles of the $100,000 added Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park with Kelso and

Thiel Captures Peterson Classic

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Thiel, a 32-year-old public utility serviceman from Hobart, Ind., captured the top prize of $30,000 Sunday in the Peterson Bowling Classic.

The seven-month tournament ended when the last two squads of bowlers failed to overcome the score of 1,684 posted by Thiel last Feb. 8.

A record-breaking field of 15,872 bowlers took part in the classic and Thiel's score was assaulted by 12,800 bowlers after he had put together games of 202, 200, 239, 215, 196, 222 and 210.

Thiel finished 27 points ahead of Joe Etten of McHenry, Ill., and Clarence Biermann of Sullivan, Mo. Etten and Biermann tied for second with totals of 1,657 and collected $11,250 each in bowling's richest tournament which had a prize list of $412,672, tops in the meet's 54-year history.

Other top Illinois winners were Bryan Houser, Centralia, 1,629, seventh place, $1,900, and Don Zimmerman, Beecher, 1,626, ninth place, $1,400.

Miss Wright Wins Crown Fourth Time

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Mickey Wright, undisputed queen of the golfers, owns the United States Women's Open Golf championship for an unprecedented fourth time.

Blonde Mickey from Dallas defeated blonde Ruth Jessen from Seattle in an 18-hole playoff Sunday for the USGA title, shooting a three-under par 70 to her opponent's 72 over San Diego Country Club's sun-drenched par 36-37-73 course.

The pair had finished even at 290, two under par, at the end of the regulation 72 holes Saturday.

The finale was jammed with tension. At one stage it was possible for a three or four-way tie, with only a couple of holes to play. Mickey finished with a 73, Miss Jessen a 71.

As it developed, Shirley Englehorn, 23, Los Angeles, and Marilyn Smith, Colorado Springs, each with a 74, tied at 291.

Runners-up included Sandra Haynie, 295; Peggy Wilson, 296; Joann Prentice and Marlene Bauer Hagge, 298, and Kathy Whitworth, 300.

Mongo due to hook up for the first time since Mongo edged the four-time Horse of the Year in the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel, Md., last Nov. 11.

Also on the program are the $40,000-added Equipose Mile at Arlington Park; the $30,000-added New Castle Handicap, first of Delaware Park's Distaff Big Three series and the $25,000-added Tidal Handicap at Aqueduct.

The field for the Monmouth Handicap will not be known until after the weights are announced today. But Mongo is on the grounds and Kelso and Olden Times are expected to be shipped from New York.

Miss Cavandish, who came from far back to take the $56,250 Monmouth Oaks last Saturday by one length over Castle Forbes and pay $5.60, is expected to make her next start in the Delaware Oaks July 25.

Quadrangle showed he is ready to dispute the 3-year-old championship with Northern Dancer by letting Malicious set most of the pace in the $81,500 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct and then winning by a neck.

Dandy K, far back in the Kentucky Derby, put in a strong claim for the midwest 3-year-old championship by winning the $33,950 Laurance Armour Handicap on the turf at Arlington Park.

With Santa Anita Derby winner Hill Rise still in the East awaiting for another clash with Quadrangle and Northern Dancer in the Traversers, Real Good Deal wrapped up the West Coast title. He set all the pace in taking the $116,100 Hollywood Derby at Hollywood Park as Close By's winning streak was stopped at three straight.

Some Parts of Republican Plank Are Unclear: Marlow

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's a lot of Sen. Barry Goldwater in the campaign promises nailed together by the Republican platform committee. He can be highly satisfied with it.

Although he wanted a short platform, and this is long, he wanted one which was mostly a declaration of principles. In a large sense, that's what it is. And, just because it is, it's all patched over with vagueness.

Anyone reading it would have to stick a big question mark in many of the paragraphs, asking himself: "What does this mean? How will this be done?"

There will be a fight over some parts of it Tuesday on the convention floor by Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, Goldwater's leading opponent for the Republican presidential nomination. But as of now Scranton's fading fast and probably won't get far.

The foreign policy plank, for instance, starts off with a ringing call for a "dynamic strategy." That's the typical political platform rubber wording.

The Republicans created a big question mark when they went on to say they "reaffirm their longstanding commitment to a course leading to the eventual liberation"

Masked Gunman Gets $3,500 In Decatur

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — A masked gunman battled police Sunday as they pursued him after he robbed a tavern of $3,500.

The police, alerted by phone, arrived at Julie's Tavern just as the shotgun-toting robber was backing out the door. He ran out the back door, pursued by policemen with riot guns.

The thief and police engaged in a brief gun battle in the dark alley before the robber escaped. No one was hurt.

A tour is planned for Monday when the group will go to two Dixon businesses.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

Q. I will be 62 in September 1964. My neighbor says I must have a birth certificate to prove my age. Is this true?

A. No, generally speaking, it is not true. You must submit evidence of your age and a birth certificate issued at the time of your birth is of course the most reliable proof of age. But about 45 per cent of the births in this country between 1895 and 1920 were not registered. You may be among this group. If so, you may be able to prove your age with some other document, such as a baptismal certificate, family Bible, a marriage record, confirmation records, school record, military or immigration record.

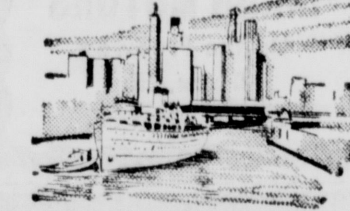

Q. How soon should I make application for my social security retirement benefits?

A. It's a good idea to call at the social security office three months before you reach age 62. If you decide to file a claim, we will have sufficient time to process your claim so that your first check will be paid promptly to you.

Q. I am 66 years old and have earned wages of $2000 per year for many years. My earnings are over $100 every month of the year. Is there any chance that I could collect social security benefits even though I am continuing to work?

A. There certainly is. You may be eligible to receive over $350 a year in social security benefits even if you continue to work at your present rate. Stop by your local social security office for full details.

Raft Carrying Students Arrives In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (U) — A raft carrying four 20-year-old college students arrived here Sunday after an 1,800-mile trip down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers.

Ronald Wismar and Norman Hell-mers, both of New Orleans and Lester Netland of Lakewood, Ohio, assembled the raft and launched it south of Hinsdale, Ill., on June 10.

Richard Riemer, who stayed behind at Concordia Lutheran Teachers College in River Forest, Ill., decided to join his classmates. He flew from Chicago to Memphis, Tenn., in search of the raft, then took a bus to Helena, Ark., where a river pilot ferried him out to the craft.

4-H Club DOINGS

COMPTON—Fair books and tickets were distributed to members of the Compton-Brooklyn Beavers 4-H Club Wednesday evening when they met in the Jerry Henkel home.

The scramble supper picnic for families was set for 6 p.m. following the club project tour July 26. Dennis Poltsch talked on the horsemanship school and Phil Corcoran on the record training school. A work day was set for July 13 at the Bob Greskiwicz home. The club voted to give to the 4-H Center depreciation fund.

Daniel Archer talked on rabbits; Lois Archer, chickens; David Stevenson, rabbits and steers; Kathy Bickett, rabbits, and Linda Archer, tulips.

The next meeting will be Aug. 26 in the home of Dick, Dale and Dave Stevenson.

GREATEST SMOKE SCREEN

Greatest smoke screen ever produced in warfare probably was the 60-mile smoke cover along the Rhine that screened reorganization of the 21st U.S. Army group and its subsequent crossing of the river in March of 1945.

It is estimated that 40 per cent of all U.S. wives are employed outside the home.
